Healthcare

Jones Howard is an established and reputable provider of payroll solutions serving the temporary staffing sector across the UK. We recognise that definitions of the so-called contingent labour market now takes many forms including working as a contractor, freelancer, soul-trader or self-employed professional, and we pride ourselves on providing payroll options appropriate to each circumstance.

Unlike many other payroll (or umbrella) companies, our team forges commercially beneficial and personal relationships with all workers paid via Jones Howard. Our company ethos is underpinned by a desire to provide a fully compliant, transparent and genuinely helpful service to contractors of all descriptions irrespective of their agency, status, location or sector.

In addition to providing a reliable payroll service, we also strive to add extra value to our offering via a variety of initiatives designed to maximise your take-home pay, save you money and to ensure your tax affairs are always up to date. A detailed list of these benefits is included in this document.

Jones Howard passionately believe that contractors will play an increasingly pivotal role within all industries and that their services will be instrumental in the regeneration of the nation's economy post COVID-19. Our payroll service has been tailored to make certain you are both rewarded correctly and treated respectfully.

HEALTHCARE / SECTOR OVERVIEW

Perhaps more than any time in modern history, the future of the healthcare sector is subject to fervent debate. The impact of COVID-19 has highlighted the critical importance of the industry and prompted passionate discussions with regards to funding, availability and long-term strategy. The pivotal role played by a diverse contingent workforce has also been brought into sharp focus on how the sector is reliant upon contractors be they nurses, clinicians, doctors, locums, porters or auxiliary staff.

Jones Howard's portfolio of fully compliant payroll options provides the perfect solutions for professionals working in healthcare. In addition to transparent gross-to-net wage calculations and a reduced margin, contractors are eligible for a range of benefits to help maximise take-home pay, save money and to ensure their tax affairs are always up to date.

Jones Howard recognises the outstanding contribution of contractors to the healthcare sector and the challenges these individuals will face going forward. Impending changes to IR35 legislation due to be introduced in April 2021, will force many contractors to review their current employment status, agency arrangements and associated tax implications. Our team will be delighted to provide independent advice to those potentially affected by the new legislation.
